STATE CAPITOL NEWS

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP) — California has a total of 853 new laws as a result of final action taken by Governor Frank F. Merriam at the conclusion of the 30-day bill signing period.

After one of the longest sessions in the history of the state, the legislature sent a total of 1,125 bills to the governor's desk. Of this number, 853 were approved, and 272 were vetoed. Included in the latter total were 251 measures which were permitted to die by means of the "pocket" veto at the conclusion of the bill signing period, midnight of July 20.

The governor waited until the last minute to announce his decision on four highly controversial bills which had been the subject of bitter battles throughout the legislature.

He signed the measure levying a tax ranging from $1 to $500 per store on chain store concerns, but refused approval of bills which would have legalized dog racing and pari-mutuel betting on dog races, repealing the "gin marriage" law and providing for contracts for the private slant drilling of state-owned tideland oil pools at Huntington Beach on the basis of 16 2-3 per cent royalty for the state.

One of the most important bills signed by the governor provided liberal amendments to California's old age security act, including a reduction in the minimum age limit from 70 to 60 years and establishment of pensions within a range of $20 to $35 a month.

The measure also provides for a reduction in the residential requirement from 15 years to 5 years out of the preceeding nine, contingent on federal aid under the national security act.

Additional relief for property owners would be provided in another measure which, along with all bills not carrying an urgency clause, will become effective September 15. The bill outlaws deficiency judgments in cases of foreclosure on property where the indebtedness was a part of the original purchase price.

California will have one of the most extensive teletype systems connecting offices of peace officers in the nation as a result of another bill given final approval. The measure provides for the addition of Martinez, Merced, Modesto, Redding, Visalia, Marysville, Riverside, San Jose and Oroville to the system, making it actually state wide.

During a week of Sacramento's hottest weather, members of the state board of equalization sat in shirt sleeves to hear protests against the establishment of a uniform assessment ratio of 50 per cent of actual value. Despite the protests, the ratio was established. In most cases increases in assessments were necessary to establish an equitable level looking toward taxation of public utility property by local governments.

P. M. Weddell Here For Yearly Visit

P. M. Weddell of San Jose, whose appearance in our town has become a matter of course for a number of years, arrived on Wednesday afternoon for his annual visit. Mr. Weddell for a number of years has spent his vacation marking the old Emigrant Trail.

In an interview with a representative of the Sierra Sun, Mr. Weddell said: "It is about thirteen years since I began marking the Emigrant Trail on the eastern slope of the Sierra from Alder Creek Meadows to the Summit and down the west slope to Mary Lake. During this time, some of the sign boards have been removed and taken away as souvenirs with only two or three cases of destruction of the signs. It has been my purpose, and is now, to replace all signs that have disappeared. This summer I shall try to repaint the older sign boards now fading out and dim with exposure to the elements. Again I want to express my regards and earnest consideration for the personal kindness and cooperative spirit of the people of Truckee and the valuable assistance of the Sierra Sun."

NEVADANS BUY WATER FROM DONNER LAKE

Government Purchases 6,000 Acre Feet to Flow In Truckee River.

The six thousand acre feet of water purchased from Donner Lake began flowing into the Truckee River last Thursday.

The purchase of the water was authorized by the federal government to relieve threatened drought conditions in the Truckee Meadows, and Fernley and Hazen bench lands. The government will pay the Donner Lake Company $2.60 an acre foot, and it is understood the funds will be supplied by the rural resettlement organization.

The water is expected to relieve the irrigation water shortage until about August 6th.

Property Owners Protest Change in Alley

A hearing is to be held by the Board of Supervisors in Nevada City on Monday morning, July 29 at 10 o'clock on the petition presented to them for the abandonment of a portion of the alley in the rear of the business establishments on Main Street.

The petition asks that the present 25 foot alley be shortened in width to 15 feet and grant to the property owners along Main Street, the additional 10 feet in the rear of each of their lots. Many of the buildings have been built over their line and the Board of Supervisors have been asked to take this means of straightening out the lines of the porperty.

Property owners at the east end of Main Street are protesting the shortening of the alley as they consider it creates a fire hazard. A letter from the fire underwriters state that the fire insurance rate will be increased if the alley is shortened. These property owners are not protesting the shortening of the alley at the west end, from the Sierra Tavern to the telephone building which shows on the official map as actually East Main Street. The map shows the alley as starting from the Owens Building occupied by the Tourist Club, and to the west of this point is East Main Street.

PASSENGER TRIES TO WRECK STAGE

Lives of Passengers Endangered as Crazed Man Wrestles With Stage Operator.

Neil McCue, a passenger on the Greyhound stage enroute from Chicago to San Francisco was taken into custody by Traffic Officer C. E. McKeen and Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley on Monday morning near Donner Lake for attempting to get control of the wheel from the driver of the stage. Only the quick work of the passengers prevented the stage from being plunged into Donner Lake.

McCue was sitting in back of the driver and suddenly reached over his shoulder and attempted to get control of the wheel, as the stage was making moderate speed around the curves along the rim of the lake. Rev. A. French of Sharpsburg, Pa. who was sitting near McCue siezed him and prevented him from overpowering the stage driver until the stage was brought to a stop. McCue was quickly subdued and was turned over to the officers from Truckee. He was placed in the local jail and given a hearing before Judge C. E. Smith on Tuesday morning charged with interfering with the driver of a vehicle while it is in motion. Upon pleading guilty he was fined $500 or four months in the county jail. McCue was unable to pay the fine and was taken to Nevada City by Sheriff Tobiassen on Wednesday to serve the jail sentence.

It is believed that McCue had been drinking and became suddenly demented.

Townsend Club Hears Talk By Jack Richard

The Townsend Club had one of the best attended meetings since its organization on last Monday evening. Jack Richard of Los Angeles who is spending the summer at Lake Tahoe gave a most interesting talk on the Townsend Plan and of his observations of the various problems which the country is facing today. Mr. Richard will speak again at the meeting to be held next Monday evening and the officers of the club are desirous of having an even larger attendance of members and friends.

On August 18th the Truckee Townsend Club will hold a picnic at Camp Richardson. Art Pearson who spoke before the local club several months ago will attend and give a talk and he will also have other speakers who will also talk on the Townsend Plan. It is expected that there will be a good representation from other Townsend Clubs who will attend the picnic. Governor Merriam has been invited to attend.

TAX RATE FOR COUNTY $1.40

Lowest Tax Rate In History of County.

The basic tax rate for the coming year for the county as determined by the Board of Supervisors after submission of the budgets of the county officers and based on a tax calculation of $14,000,000 determined by County Assessor John M. Hammill will be $1.40 per hundred dollars.

This rate is the lowest tax rate in the history of the county. Records of the county auditors office go back to 1875 when the tax rate was $1.70 per hundred dollars and during the sixty years that have followed there has been a gradual increase.

The basic rate for this year is based on the following:

Salary fund	.32
Jr. Colleges	.03
Veterans Building at Grass Valley	.08
Veterans Building at Truckee	.03
Total	1.40

The rate last year was $2.20.

TAHOE WATER MAY BE SOUGHT BY NEVADANS

Indications Are Given That Property Owners Will Resist Move.

Representatives of the Fallon and Truckee Meadows Irrigation Districts took steps toward obtaining federal funds to pump 30,000 acre feet of water from Lake Tahoe into the Truckee River.

Indications that objections would be made to pumping water from Lake Tahoe were noted when representatives of the Lake Tahoe Protective Association made such statements to irrigation officials. These same Tahoe property owners aided in furnishing water from the lake last year. This year, it was said, they will oppose the pumping on the grounds that no emergency exists and that they were given to understand that Nevada interests would not seek to pump water from the lake again this year.

The matter has been laid before the Federal Resettlement Administration. It is estimated it will cost $50,000 to pump the water. Last year 40,000 acre feet of water was pumped from the lake.

The Truckee River flow is 274 second feet at Iceland.

Grammar School Trustees Seek Quarters for Classes

The trustees of the Truckee Grammar School are this week advertising for suitable quarters to hold the classes of the grammar school until the completion of the new building which is to be erected.

Since last March the intermediate and upper classes of the grammar school have been held in the winter sports pavilion and the primary classes in a residence on Church Street. Due to the fact that the winter sports pavilion will have to be vacated when the winter sports season opens and the difficulty of the children in getting to the building should there be storms, and the cramped conditions that prevailed at the school for the primary classes, it was thought advisable to try and make other arrangements for the classes before the opening of the new term on August 19th.

The trustees would like to find a building large enough to have all the classes together and are requesting anyone who has a suitable building to get in touch with the trustees at once.

Forest Fires Prevalent In This Region

Forest Fires have been prevalent in this district for sometime and District Ranger H. I. Snider states that there have been twenty-two fires so far this year. Most of these fires have been caused by careless fishermen and by lightning storme.

Last Friday afternoon a fire caused by lightning was brought under control about one mile south of town in Martis Valley after burning about one-quarter acre.

The Laity Funeral Home on Church Street has been completed and W. H. Laity having passed the state examinations and secured his license for embalming is now prepared to serve the public.

The new funeral home consists of an attractively furnished chapel and slumber room, preparation room and casket room.

The Laity Funeral Home willl aso be used by Ross Burke Co. of Reno as a branch of their Reno funeral home.

COMMUNIST LEADER DEFEATED

Defeat of Harry Bridges' aspirations to lead the International Longshoremen's Association was hailed by California editors generally as a smashing victory for conservative unionism.

The failure of the west coast leader to unseat President Joseph P. Ryan, it was pointed out, gave further proof that American labor is not inclined toward communist theories.

"When it came time for election," said the Turlock Daily Journal, "Bridges was not even nominated, and Ryan was elected unanimously. Bridges was labeled a communist and Pacific coast have gotten themselves into. A series of resoblamed for much of the difficulty that longshoremen on the lutions presented by Bridges that would chart a radical course for the I. L. A. were soundly defeated. In fact, Bridges did not win a single skirmish during the entire convention. Let's hope his days of trouble-provoking leadership on this coast are at an end."

The defeat, according to the Stockton Record, "inevitably must create more respect for the union and the labor movement in general. For a long time it has been evident that Bridges and his henchmen are interested in keeping men away from their jobs rather than in promoting their interests in such matters as wages, hours and working conditions. It is their obvious intent to foment trouble and agitate for the sake of their own sinister ends. Now Ryan and the conservatives have rebuffed the radical onslaught. All true union men will hence forth flout the Bridges leadership and follow that where their real interests lie."

"During the San Francisco dock strike," notes the Santa Rosa Press Democrat, "when Bridges undertook to and did declare a general strike, one that even closed up the bakeries and restaurants, prevented the hauling of corpses through the streets without special permit, Joseph P. Ryan level-headed president of the International Longshoremen's Association, repudiated both the man and his work. William Green, president of the American Federation of labor, also repudiated Bridges. Labor will not be apt to desert men such as these, men whose efforts have done so much to advance the cause in this country, for such crackpots as Bridges, who has no real interest in advancing the welfare of those who work for their living, but merely wants to stir up trouble."

"Communism that taints the International Longshoremen's Association in the west," remarked the Hanford Daily Sentinel, "appears to have been scotched in the New York convention by the defeat of Harry Bridges and the Pacific delegation that supported him, but the virus is still resident in the Pacific coast organization and will doubtless continue under the radical leadership of Bridges. The purging must be done in the western unions. This will be the job of the international body, whose conservatism scored in the settlement of the strike on the west coast last year, against Bridges and his red cohorts."

The choice in the marine industries, notes the Marysville Appeal-Democrat, "lies between following proved leaders, such as Ryan, or turning to extremists of the Harry Bridges type. Control by the older leaders would mean improved relations between the ship operators and the unions. Although they might not see eye to eye on questions in dispute, the objectives of both sides would be constructive, not destructive. There can be no real negotiations with men of the Bridges type who have no other goal than to ruin."

Politically Speaking

By GEARGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP) — Approval by Gov. Frank F. Merriam of the chain store tax bill was regarded by observers at the catitol as a political "out".

Pressure on both sides admittedly was great, but proponents represented the greatest numerical strength. Chain store operators have planned attacks against the measure from two fronts—a referendum and a court test of its questionable constitutionality.

In explaining his signature the governor pointed out that the opponents could take advantage of the referendum and that he would "welcome" the verdict of the people. By signing the bill, he made thousands of independent merchants happy, and still left the door open for the chain store operators.

Thegovernor's refusal to approve the measure which would have authorized the state to enter into contracts with private oil companies to tap the state-owned oil pool under the tide lands of Huntington Beach also had its political ramifications.

Senator Culbert Olson, former right bower of the Upton Sinclair EPIC forces and arch enemy of the administration, is chairman of a special senate committee investigating the Huntington Beach situation.

Signature of the oil bill would have made work of the committee practically useless, and would have added plenty of fuel for whatever fire Olson may hope to build under the administration during the next three years.

With the bill signing off his hands Governor Merriam was expected to turn his attention to other affairs of state which have been neglected since the beginning of the legislative session last January.

Among other things, there are some 200 appointments to be made to fill out the state roster, including the filling of a number of vacancies and the replacement of lieutenants left over from the Rolph administration.

Most of the appointments will be to non-salaried positions on various state boards, but a few substantial salary checks are available for administration friends, including the office of adjutant general left vacant by the death of Seth Howard. The position pays $6,000 a year. A new act recently approved also makes the director of motor vehicles a $6,000 position.

A test of the new 3 per cent retail sales tax and the exemption of foodstuffs will be started in Sacramento shortly, sponsored by restaurant operators throughout the state.

A local coffee shop is to be made the "goat" by refusing to pay the 3 per cent tax. The board of equalization plans to give notice of cancellation of the cafe's license and the case will be thrown into court.

Restaurant owners contend in no uncertain terms that the exemption of foodstuffs sold in grocery stores and the taxing of food sold in eating houses in "discriminatory."

State officials are not particularly worried over the outcome of the suit inasmuch as income from the tax would be approximately the same even if the new law was declared unconstitutional. In such an event the tax would revert to 2 per cent as provided in the original Riley-Stewart act but foodstuffs would not be exempted.

One of the unexplainable vetoes that came out in a final checkup of executive action dealt with a measure providing for the establishment of rural electrification districts.

The measure was requested by President Roosevelt as a part of a national rural electrification program and Governor Merriam sent a message to the legislature asking for the legislation.

The resulting bill was among the 251 that died by means of the "pocket" veto.

GAMBLING DEVICES BRING LARGE RETURN

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP) — "Small change" gambling devices such as slot machines and pin games have reached well into the million dollar class.

Based on reports made to the state board of equalization, the devices are taking anywhere from $12,000,000 to 13,000,000 in nickles, dimes and quarters out of the pockets of Californians every year.

The report indicated the state will collect approximately $400,000 in sales taxes from operators of the devices.

Employes of the board report that approximately 98½ per cent of the operators have paid the tax without protest and that it required no more detective work to locate the devices than "walking up to the front door and telling the owners to pay."

The board has issued sales tax permits to 1,800 device operators, The permits do not legalize an otherwise illegal machine.

"The board does not differentiate between legal and illegitimate business," said chairman Ray L. Riley, "We claim that money is tangible commodity. Inasmuch as these machines deal in money, the gross receipts are subject to the sales tax."

As long as the machines are operated the tax will be collected, but it is understood that state officials would gladly relinquish this source of revenue if operation of the devices was stopped by local authorities.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By Swanee

Dick Kirman Jr. son of Governor and Mrs. Richard Kirman of Sparks and Tahoe, is recuperating from his recent illness at Santa Barbara.

The George Phillips of Sandy Beach started the construction of a modern new double cabin last week which will bring their total up to four. Between 30 and 40 compfire girls arrived the first of the week from Grass Valley to occupy their new camp across the highway from from Sandy Beach Camp.

A modern new Skeet club has been added to the Brockway golf club property, installation of the equipment having been completed over a week ago. Among those responsible for the innovation are Messrs Harry Comstock, Norman Biltz, H. G. Snodgrass and Joe King all of the north end of the lake Rumors of an injuction against it's operation by summer vacationists occupying nearby cottages were heard in Brockway last week, but so far as is known no action has been taken. The club is gaining rapidly in memberships and popularity and if the skillful marksmanship demonstrated by Messrs. Blitz, Snodgrass and King for this writer's benefit last week is improved upon during the coming weeks, it will be just too bad for Tahoe ducks and bucks this fall! The guns used by the club are a short cylinder bore type which spread the shot at shorter range. Every precaution is being taken to protect the public and secure and keep the good will of nearby neighbors and it does seem that with Tahoe's rambling area there should be plenty of room for this popular man's sport. The club is located directly upon the lake shore some 200 yards or more distant from the nearest house. Members assured me that if children and others would maintain that distance and remain off the club property no harm would come to them. One mother, however, claimed that the small shot spattered at times in the water near where her children were playing. We all trust that a peaceful and satisfactory solution may be found in the matter, in order that Tahoe may retain this added amusement attraction which should assist greatly in coaxing the male vacationist to remain longer in our midst.

Many Tahoe townfolk have been suffering with an illness, so far without a name. The writer, also a victim, calls it "pollenitie" because it is believed by some of the local learned ones to be caused by the drinking of spring water containing pollen from the flowering shrubs. One does not become ill enough to be confined to bed necessarily but suffers with sneezing, severe headaches, loss of appetite, a tickling cough and soreness in the throat, fever, listlessness and generally indisposed.

Shop early and be assured of a variety selection of fresh fruist and vegetables at Smiths Cash and Carry—Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seymour of Brockway entertained a group of friends over the week-end at their home on the Truckee Road. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Matthews and A. B. Sisson of Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murray of Idobart Mills, Mrs. Clair Anderson and Mrs. Flagg Sr. of the Flagg Furniture Co. Reno.

Mrs. Guy Young is entertaining her mother who arrived on Sunday from Evansville, Wisconsin and her sister Miss Crooks of Reno at her Truckee Road home.

Dr. A. Lincoln Brown flew up from San Francisco on Thursday to spent the week-end with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. R. King of Reno were hosts to a group of friends from Reno at their Brockway home on Sunday.

The Catholic Chapel at Tahoe has been filled to capacity and overflowing the past three Sundays. Last week Miss Alma Collins, solist at St. Joseph's Church in San Jose, and Miss Annette Nozica of Sunnyvale, rendered several sacred numbers as guests of the regular choir, which has for it's organist Mrs. Charles Kendrick. The girls vacationed here for several days at Meek's Bay resort.

Finest inspected meats and poultry—Highest quality—Lowest Prices. Smith's Cash and carry, Tahoe City.

Camp Tawonga, near the south end of the lake, welcomed on Monday, July 29th, the last group of youngsters from the cities who will enjoy a two weeks fling at camp life in our region. These are all girls and will be in direct charge of Miss Emma J. Lowry, Assistant Director of the Jewish Community Center in San Francisco. Several hundred boys for the past month have been enjoying the advantages of the camp. A special feature of the present group will be a hike by the older girls to the top of Mt. Towanga where they will await the glorious spectacle of a sunrise. The camp is sponsored by the Jewish Community Center and the B'nai Brith.

The fire which started on Tuesday morning on the west shores of Fallen Leaf Lake was believed to have been started from a lighted cigarette or match thrown carelessly into the brush by a vacationist. At six o'clock Tuesday night Ranger Riley Bryant of Myers and his crew of 125 men had the fire under control, corraled at the base of Mt. Tallac where it still burned. Bryant said it would burn itself out when it reached the snowline. Fanned by a high southeast wind it swept over about 75 acres or Government land, containing mostly brush and little timber. Great palls of smoke hung over the south end of the lake during the day. Three Evinrude pumps set up on the lakeshore of Fallen Leaf to relay water via Indian pipe line (or bucket brigade) up the mountain side. All summer homes of the district were saved and were out of all danger. Two crews from camp CCC Rubicon and CCC camp Snowline spent the entire night patroling the burning area where going was extremely difficult due to the steep, rocky mountain side which offers little foothold.

Too much cannot be said in reference to the carelessly thrown lighted or unlit, match and abandoned camp fire. The latter should be given minute examination and attention when breaking camp, not left with the natural supposition that it is out. If every person handling matches at all times would follow the suggestion of the government agencies in this regard and always break a match in two before discarding it, they might be shocked occasionally to find their fingers sharply burned. For many a supposedly dead match is far from dead, but invisibly generating a deadly flame under a smokeless, innocent exterior. Not unlike the unloaded gun which kills and maims needlessly, the apparently dead match carelessly thrown into brush and grass wreaks just as much havoc with life and property throughout the nation each year. Do your bit by adopting this resolution today—Break every used match in half before discarding it. Our beautiful forests, scores of years in the making are one of our principle assets. Let's not burn them down through carelessness, indifference and neglect.

Let us give you an estimate on that order of case goods before you buy elsewhere—We invite price comparison. Smith's Cash and Carry Tahoe City.

Fulfilling the ambition of a lifetime, Clay Sherman, 21 year old Oakland boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Sherman of that city, on August 3rd, at midnight, will attempt the unprecedented feat of swimming across the blue waters of Lake Tahoe from shore to shore. No man to date has yet accomplished. this. The course tentatively laid out by his manager, Gregory Van Brunt of the Tavern, is about fourteen or fifteen miles, and follows along the general course taken by Mrs. Myrtle Huddleson, mother of two children, some years ago, who was the first person ever to make the cross the lake swim. Her time (during which for several hours she was lost entirely from the sight of her convoy in the darkness, and drifted miles off her course) was within 7 minutes of 24 hours. Sick and exhausted, she was presented with a purse of around $700.00 raised for her at that time. Weighing in the neighborhood of 225 pounds she lost 45 pounds during the ordeal.

Young Sherman, who stands 6 ft. 4½ inches and weighs over 200 pounds, believes he can clip about half from the time made by Mrs. Huddleson, under favorable weather conditions averaging a mile an hour for the first five hours. He plans to leave Dead Man's Point, adjacent to Glenbrook, at midnight, and land at Tahoe Tavern around noon the next day. For more than two months he has been swimming daily from two to four miles in the lake waters in preparation for the swim, having started active training in May at the Athens Athletic Club in Oakland following his decision to attempt the cross the lake swim. By starting at midnight the heavy east winds prevalent on the lake at times during this season of the year some afternoons, may be averted and he will be enabled to land at the Tavern in daylight. Young Sherman who specialized in the 440 yard dash during his four years of college at the University of Oregon, is confident and fearless and feels assured he can make the jaunt in record time, with half way decent weather. Much excitement is evident at Tahoe over the proposed swim, and the finest cooperation is being readily offered on all sides.

Melvin Throop of Sacramento, sojourning with his family at Tahoe Lodge had an unique experience on Tuesday last not accorded every vacationist visiting our fair shores. Like most of the men who find themselves in our mist, Mr. Throop decided he would like to make his pals at home a bit envious by sending them down his picture taken in company with one of Tahoe's famous big trout. Accordingly he sat himself down upon the Government pier at Tahoe Park with line, hook, sinker and a plentiful supply of healthy minnows. Hour after hour came and departed with all the big ones still intact in the lake. The sunwas beginning to set as in disgust he prepared to depart. A sudden cry from the other side of the pier arrested him. A great big trout was cruising about gracefully in the crystal clear water looking for a shady place to park or a tempting morsel for dinner. Mr. Throop immediately endeavored to oblige him, dangling some of his fattest, livliest minnows before him, only to meet with disdainful contempt. The crowd on the pier "Oh'd" and "Ah'd" as the fish swirled and glided about, glistening with all the gorgeous colors of the rainbow, and it began to look as if he would swim away, just as he had come. But there were two watching who had other ideas about his departure. One gentleman, name unknown, irked beyond endurance at his bold display of insolent indifference, but possessing no fishing paraphernalia, let fly a large rock he was carrying in his hand, striking the proud beauty on the head, temporarily stunning him. Howls arose from the bystanders who watched curiously as he twisted and splashed about in circles. But it took Mr. Throop, an expert in mental aritbmetic, to find the answer to the problem. With a hungry gleam of resentful satisfaction in his eye, he cast aside hat and line and dove, clothes and all into the ten feet or more of water, landing beside his quarry, still dazed and stunned from the blow. Lunging at the fish, with his first thrust he ran his finger under the gill and through one eye, where he clung tenaciously, with the crowd cheering wildly, until he had brought his prize to shore. And at this writing he doesn't know yet what his 6½ pound trout is. The big fellow has all the earmarks of a rainbow, with the beautiful, gleaming stripe along his side, but he also has the small, dark head of a steelhead or a hybrid, and the red shadings beside the mouth of a cut throat. Until J. C. Lewis, superintendent of the Lake Tahoe Hatcheries, gives his authentic decision, Mr. Throop will still believe he has caught the grand-daddy of all the Lake Tahoe rainbows. Whatever it is, it's owner is considering having the skin stuffed as a permanent momento of the big one he can tell the boys about that didn't get away.

The worst accident in 22 years of Tahoe's history occurred around 10 p. m. Thursday near McKinney's Point taking the lives of little 7 year old Tommy O'Connor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thos. C. O'Connor of Bret Harte Sanitarium, Murphy's Calaveras County (and nephew of Mrs. Claire Jones of Homewood) and Mrs. Litis Votau of San Francisco. The doctor had taken the group of nine, five children and four grownups, out for a ride in the moonlight in his light rowboat, equipped with an outboard motor. Members of his party who testified at the inquest, declared that they had observed the larger boat approaching but presuming the doctor also had seen it and fearing the reproach usually accorded back seat drivers, failed to call his attention to it until too late. Dr. O'Connor was engaged in tinkering with the carburetor and looked up only a second before the crash to see the dark shadow a few yards away. In vain he pulled the tiller of his small craft, but the speeding Garwood driven by C. D Woods of Tahoma, struck him on the starboard side, overturning the occupants, whose screams could be heard for a long distance. The doctor suffered a bad bruise on the forehead which rendered him unconscious for some time, and little David Schindler also a passenger, recefved a bruised forehead and crushed mouth. Through his boy scout training he managed to keep himself afloat until thrown a rescue line from the Woods boat. He told a pitiful story of how little Tommy, screaming and crying had clutched at his neck, nearly drowning them both. Other occupants of the boat included Mrs. Votau who was drowned, her two children, Billie 8 and Margy, 12, of San Francisco, (who were renting a cottage at Tahoe Pines for the summer), little Marjorie O'Connor 5, and Mr. and Mrs Leroy Gimbal of Oakland. Among the first to discover their plight was Dave Chambers who immediately rushed to the telephone calling all neighbors with boats to render their assistance. About a half hour after the accident the body of the woman was recovered in the 20 feet of water where the wreck occurred. A short time later the little boy's body was brought ashore where they were taken to Chambers' clubhouse, Dr. J. J. Bourne, a guest of the Lodge, and Dr. C. B. Pedersen working with a respirator and other restoratives for several hours without success. Woods was accompanied by his wife and daughter and a party of five friends.

He declared his lights were all functioning, and in full accord with the required laws for motor boats, and that neither he, nor any member of his party had any inkling of the approaching boat until a second before the tragedy, when he had heard a woman scream "Look out." A coroner's jury exonerated him of all blame, for not only was his boat fully lighted, but he immediately turned about and rendered every possible aid to the victims of the mishap. Dr. Etta Farmer of Homewood administered first aid to the Schindler boy. Much credit should be given Dave Chambers and Obexers, for it was the grappling hooks secured from them which made recovery of the bodies possible. Mr. Chamber's hooks, known as the Seagrave equipment, are some 20 feet long, and it is also considered a remarkable piece of work to have saved seven out of the nine persons involved under the difficult circumstances. The mountains cast a dark shadow across the scene of the tragedy, and only by the use of powerful spotlights, was the work successfully speeded.

The steamer Tahoe, now the property of the Tahoe Transportation Co. following a complete over hauling and reconditioning, made her first trip of the season on Wednesday. Special excursions will be made throughout the season.

SACRAMENTO-LAKE TAHOE CIRCUIT MOTORING TOUR

In its series of suggested automobile tours in northern California, the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works recommends the Sacramento-Lake Tahoe circuit trip as one offering a great variety of scenic attractions.

Leaving the Capitol City, the motorist drives east on the Folsom Boulevard past Perkins and its miles of vineyards and Mather Field which the federal government plans to make one of its largest aviation bases, to the historic town of Folsom. Entering Folsom, one passes huge piles of cobble stones left in the wake of gold dredges which have taken out millions of dollars of nuggets.

From Folsom, the drive is up by easy grades through Shingle Springs to El Dorado, the Mother Lode State Highway, which follows for a way the magic trail of the Forty-niners, Turning left from El Dorado the route is to Placerville, rich in traditions of the gold rush days, thence to Riverton and Kyburz on the banks of the headwaters of the American River. Here are many beautiful summer homes. Next is Strawberry with its famous Lovers Leap Rock and Camp Sacramento, owned and operated by the City of Sacramento for its citizens.

Climbing steadily, the motorist reaches Echo Summit, 7300 feet above sea level, from which point spreads out a wonderful panorama of the Lake Tahoe country. Far below is the southern beach line of Tahoe. Dropping down grade, one rolls into Myers, an old stage station of early days, and a little distance beyond is Mays Station. The trip thus far has been over the Lincoln Highway.

North from Emerald Bay and to the right of a small summit is Rubicon Point which is a California state park. The shoreline of this public preserve has little or no beach. Steep slopes lead into deep water of the lake.

Lake Tahoe nestles in the heart of the Sierras, 6,220 feet above the sea, an incomparable body of crystal clear fresh water surrounded by lofty mountain peaks whose slopes are covered with evergreen pines and, in the summer, a profusion of wild flowers.

From Tahoe, the motorist crosses and follows the Truckee River down to the town of Truckee. Here the engineers of the old Central Pacific railroad, working day and night to complete the first transcontinental railroad line, planned the forty miles of snow sheds over the summit of the Sierra Nevada range. They built a saw mill. They used enough lumber in the "shed" to have constructed many towns the size of Truckee.

The first stop after leaving Truckee is at Donner Lake, now a monument to the ill-fated Donner Party which perished here in an attempt to cross the summit in the gold rush days. Skirting the west end of the lake, the route is a steady climb to Lookout Point which rivals for panoramic view, enchanting Echo Summit on the Placerville Tahoe highway.

From this point, the motorist coasts down through pine forests along a branch of Bear River. Turn right beyond Emigrant Gap, cross the Bear River, climb to the broad back of Harmony Ridge, scarred by hydraulic miners, once the bed of an unknown river whose age-old bed yielded up many millions in golden wealth.

Winding down the south side of

Christian Science

"Thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 28, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Blessed is that man thatmaketh the Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies. I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart. Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me." (Ps. 40: 4, 8, 11).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "To seek Truth through belief in a human doctrine is not to understand the infinite. We must not seek the immutable and immortal through the finite, mutable, and mortal, and so depend upon belief instead of demonstration, for this is fatal to a knowledge of Science. The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings." (p.286).

Act Puts "Teeth" Into Dental Law

SACRAMENTO, July 25—(UP)—An act to put "teeth" into state dental laws, was recently approved by Gov. Frank F. Merriam.

Authorities are permitted to secure an injunction to prevent the practising of unlicensed dentists in California, according to the measure sponsored by Senator Walter McGovern, San Francisco.

Although the state requires the licensing of all practising dentists, it is hoped that many "fly-by-nighters" will be prevented from practising without proper examination.

Harmony Ridge, past grizzled Old Banner Peak, the highway leads to Nevada City with its narrow, crooked streets, with sidewalk steps and historic buildings. Drop into the ancient National Hotel on the west side of Main Street where hotel registers from early days on down are kept. Those registers contain the names of many California history makers. It is said that if one can prove they were ever a guest of the hotel and their name cannot be found on a register, they are made a complimentary guest of the house.

Across Deer Creek is Grass Valley where gold has been profitably mined since 1849 and where are the famous North Star and Empire mines. Here, on a side street, is the old home of Lola Montez, reigning beauty and actress of the gold rush days and whose story is part of the history of California.

From Grass Valley, it is an easy run to Auburn, little Queen City of the foothills, thence through miles of orchards and vineyards to Newcastle, great fruit shipping center, and on down through Penryn and Loomis to Rocklin, whose granite quarries furnished the stone in the Capitol at Sacramento. Next is Roseville with its railroad shops and backed up by a rich farming district and then North Sacramento and across a splendid new bridge spanning the American River to Sacramento.

This 260 mile tour is over fine state highways, built and maintained by the people of California with their own money, paid by them into the state gas tax funds.

State Funds Are Allocated For Schools

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP)— California public schools will receive an estimated $68,343,360 from the state for support during the 1935-36 period, according to an estimate prepared by the state department of education on the basis of school attendance for the current year.

Included in this amount, Nevada county will receive $118,530 for its elementary schools and $66,224 for high schools.

State records show that the allocation for the coming year decreased from the amount given counties last year, mainly as a result of a drop in average daily attendance figures.

Total allocations for the two periods on a comparative estimated basis included:

Elementary schools—1934-35, $42,727,522, 1935-36 $41,609,441.

High schools—1934-35, $26,089,564; 1935-36,$26,030,468.

Junior colleges—1934-35, $1,650,707; 1935-36, $1,703,451.

The decrease in the average daily attendance was attributed by department officials to a number of major factors, including restricted immigration as a result of more stringent laws passed several years ago, economic conditions and a decreasing birth rate.

Officials pointed out that there is a "lag" of approximately six years before such factors are felt by the public schools. As a result the educational institutions now are feeling the results of conditions prevalent several years ago.

According to the statistics, the junior colleges have yet to feel the results of lowered attendance and continue to show an increase, with correspondingly higher allocations for suppert from the state government.

The department report revealed that elementary school attendance ranged from 45 in Alpine county to 253,620 in Los Angeles county.

ADEQUATE FORAGE FOR LIVESTOCK

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP)— California pastures are providing adequate forage for livestock and conditions will remain favorable as long as there is no serious increase in fire hazards, state agriculturists report.

"There is an abundance of matured forage over all areas of low and intermediate elevations and an extensive acrage of stubble feed soon will be available," the federal state crop reporting service announced.

Cattle and sheep are developing well under controlled market conditions, it was revealed.

New Fair Trade Act For Milk Marketing

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP)— Producers, distributors and state authorities have jointly pledged their cooperation in making successful the new fair trade practise act in milk marketing, it was announced by A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture.

Representatives of distributor and producer associations met recently with the director and pledged their support to the new act.

Under the fair trade law, such activities as unfair discrimination, unearned rebates or discounts, cutthroat competition and other undesirable practices in milk marketing, are outlawed. It is hoped the state has seen the end of its disasterous milk wars.

HIGHWAY NOMADS VIRTUALLY OUTLAWED

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP)— Highway nomads are virtually outlawed in California. Under a new act, recently approved by the governor, automobile caravans will be taxed $15 per car.

Dealers complained about competitors who hired operators to drive machines from the factory to the coast, saving on usual freight charges, enabling them to sell the automobiles at cut rates, and advertise them as "broken in."

As originally introduced, the bill would have imposed a tax of $50. Later this was cut to $25 and finally to $15. Although the tax is not considered entirely confiscatory, it perhaps will end the practise of caravanning, proponents think.

Lives of great men also remind us that planks are things a candidate stands on before election and sits down on afterwards.

STATE PRINTING PLANT HAS RUSH ORDER

SACRAMENTO, July 25 — (UP)— Completion of the largest rush order ever given the state printing plant here was announced by George H. Moore, state printer.

The order called for 3,000,000 copies of arguments on propositions to be voted on at the special election August 13. The documents will be distributed to voters by county clerks throughout the state.

Since July 4, when the order was placed, the plant was operated 24 hours daily to get the printed matter out on time.

If this auto buying spree continues, there'll be a building boom in garages, anyhow.
